Education and training
for a positive parenting future

Do you work with teenagers or families in your community?

Core of Life Program and training may interest you...

Core of Life is a unique life-education program which helps young people and the wider community to understand the reality and responsibility of becoming pregnant, giving birth, feeding and parenting a newborn, preferably before they are pregnant!

Our 'hands-on' workshops offer inspiration and teaches you the information and skills needed to educate in your community.

See over for contact details.....

Core of Life is designed to;

- Educate youth and community both Nationally and Internationally to be able to make informed choices whilst pregnant and as new parents,
- Promote fetal and newborn infant health,
- Improve family functioning,
- Promote fathers role in parenthood,
- Improve Community interest and capacity to own and respond to early childhood issues,
- Facilitate in initiating community members, its facilities and institutions to work cross culturally together in improving early childhood health, development and wellbeing.
